

ANTI-DYKES FACTION PLANNING TO ELECT SUTTON AT HURRIED MEETING OF EDUCATION BOARD TODAY

Booze Delivered to Martin "Protected," Says Witness

PAYNE AND WEST ACTED AS ESCORT, SAYS HARRY SMITH

Methods Used by Whisky Runners to Bring Booze Into Atlanta Are Bared at Probe.

EWING SAYS HE KNEW OF WOODWARD LETTER

Attorney Asserts That He Was Told by John Y. Smith Message Had Been Prepared.

Direct charges that he delivered whisky in large quantities to Councilman Al Martin for a period of two years and that a detective escort was frequently furnished him to see that the liquor reached its destination in safety were made before the council police investigation last night by Harry J. Smith, formerly of Atlanta, now a resident of Birmingham, Ala.

Smith also threw light on the whisky sales system in Atlanta, declaring that before the moonshine reached the ultimate destination it went through the hands of the mountaineer maker, the whisky runner, an agent for whisky wholesalers, and the wholesalers, who in turn passed it on to the bootleggers, who sold it to those who are thirsty in the city.

According to his statement, deliveries to the common ordinary run of wholesalers were made in the still hours of early morning in the district devastated by the great fire of 1917. But he declared that when he furnished whisky to the member of council, he delivered it boldly to a place on Hunter street across from the courthouse and just as boldly collected for it at Martin's cafe. Later the deliveries were made to the famous gambling resort operated by Floyd Woodward at 49 1/2 Central avenue, east and again in this case Councilman Martin footed the bill.

He explained that he was enabled to work thus boldly on account of the fact that his whisky-laden car was followed by a Ford containing detectives Payne and West, whose duty it was to see that he was not detected.

On one occasion, he asserted, the detectives were present when a delivery was examined by a negro porter, who, after testing, declared the consignment satisfactory.

This opinion was concurred in by officers, he stated. He further said that Councilman Martin had assured him that he had nothing to fear in making the deliveries except from a sergeant who went off duty at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

At the close of his direct testimony, the counsel for the detectives endeavored to establish the fact that Smith had received assurance of an amicable settlement of a case against him by Solicitor Boykin.

On the other hand, Smith replied that he had come to Atlanta to enter a plea of guilty after he had taken the matter up personally over long distance telephone with Judge Andy Calhoun. "And he'll tell you the same thing if you call on him to testify," he said belligerently.

Detective Payne heard the testimony laughingly, as did Councilman Martin, who was seated right behind the detective.

Ewing Keat of Letter.

The final witness of the evening was Joe Ewing. He began a detailed account of all his transactions with Woodward, declaring that he had never been cognizant of or party to any of his confidence games. The most striking point of his

Slacker's Mother Denies Any Part In Son's Escape

BY JOHN GLEESNER.
United News Staff Correspondent.

Washington, May 13.—Mrs. Emma C. Bergdoll, mother of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, wealthy draft evader, Friday told a committee of the house of representatives how she had spent a small fortune in trying to keep her son out of the army, and later from receiving a prison sentence as a slacker.

The committee summoned Mrs. Bergdoll in an attempt to discover how her son had succeeded in escaping from military prison and fleeing to Germany, where he is now a fugitive. She responded readily to questions, with much detail, but stolidly maintained that she had no part in arranging the flight of Bergdoll from her home in Philadelphia, where he had gone from prison on leave.

Nor could the committee obtain, during a three-hour examination, any admission from Mrs. Bergdoll that she had knowledge of the "pot of gold" which Bergdoll said he had buried in the hills of Maryland. It was for the purpose of hunting this gold that Bergdoll persuaded army authorities to let him leave prison under guard.

Mrs. Bergdoll told instead how she had secreted $105,000 in gold herself, but said this had no connection with her son's alleged buried treasure.

She spoke in English which at times was difficult to understand because of the many German words. She explained that she had been born in Germany, coming to America as a child.

The presence of many spectators and the cross-fire of questions failed to disturb Mrs. Bergdoll. She maintained her pose and was in no wise apologetic. Rather she said that she believes she has been mistreated and persecuted.

FIREMEN AIDING SALVATION ARMY

Work Swells Day's Returns by Large Figure.

A fine showing Friday was registered by the big contingent of Atlanta firemen who entered the lists in behalf of the 1921 appeal of the Salvation Army's home service fund.

Practically all men on the night shift at the city's sixteen fire stations were in the field following Chief William B. Cody's call for volunteers and the work swelled the day's returns by a large amount.

The reinforcements from the fire department apparently encouraged the other Atlantans active backing the appeal for a larger number of workers were out than on previous days. Chairman Lowry Arnold, at the midday lunch, expressed the hearty thanks of all concerned for the valuable assistance furnished by the firefighters.

The Salvation Army lassies who have been calling at business and manufacturing concerns throughout Atlanta, collecting the subscription lists for the employee safes, are meeting with much success in bringing back 100 per cent results. A considerable portion of the fund is expected through this means.

Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin, chairman of the woman's division reports a continuance of responses from members of the Atlanta women's organizations.

POISONED LIQUOR KILLS ATLANTAN, DECLARE POLICE

Knoxville, Tenn., May 13.—(Special.)—Thomas E. Hennessey, formerly of Atlanta, is dead and Hugh White is seriously ill, the result of drinking poisoned liquor, it is said by officers. Both men are prominent in business, Hennessey being a bond salesman and White a prominent insurance man. Hennessey had a wife and child in Atlanta.

The last city directory says that Hennessey had moved to New York.

LINER IS BEACHED, AFTER CRASH IN FOG

London, May 13.—The Peninsula and Oriental liner Benalla, from London to Sydney, Australia, with 1,100 passengers and crew, has been beached near the Royal Sovereign lightship, off Cherbourg, France, after a collision with the British tank steamer Patella, says a Lloyd's wireless dispatch. The collision occurred in a fog.

A statement issued by the Peninsula and Oriental company says no one was injured, and that the passengers will be landed this afternoon. It is possible the ship may be floated later today.

OPTIMISTIC TONE FEATURES REPORT OF RESERVE BOARD

Atlanta District Shown to Be Recovering Rapidly From Period of Business Depression.

READJUSTMENT SLOW BECAUSE OF PRICES

Reduction in Cotton Acreage for Sixth District Declared Smaller Than Anticipated.

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON.
Constitution Bureau,
Raleigh Hotel.

Washington, D. C., May 13.—(By Constitution Bureau Wire.)—The federal reserve board's monthly bulletin, which will be issued tomorrow, not only will give an optimistic general summary of business and financial conditions, including industrial and agricultural outlooks, but will show in comparisons that the southeastern states, incorporated in the sixth or Atlanta district, are recovering business equilibrium, despite the depression of cotton, as rapidly, on the whole, as that of any section of the United States, and in some remarkable respects even more rapidly.

It will be plainly shown that while there is still much uncertainty as to when the readjustment now in process may be expected to reach its end, and while the business situation in some sections of the country and in some fields of industry is still beset with difficulties, some of the recent factors of uncertainty are either being eliminated or are of diminishing importance. Moreover, increasing appreciation of the nature of the readjustment process in business circles and in the community at large is focusing attention upon the factors that are delaying business recovery and is promoting discussion with a view to removing obstacles and expediting the return to normal conditions. The bulletin will hold that the point upon which the business situation has pivoted since last autumn has been prices. The fall of wholesale prices, which has been continuous and at times precipitate in recent months (especially for the agricultural raw material group) appears to be in process of arrest. At any rate, many wholesale prices have shown a greater degree of stability during the month of April. Prices of many basic commodities have shown, both by general index numbers and by reports from the several federal reserve districts, less sensitiveness than during the preceding month. This fact is being recognized by buyers, who are showing an increasing disposition to regard present price levels as a satisfactory basis for dealings. It will say:

Retarding Factors.

"Among the factors that are retarding readjustment are retail prices, high transportation charges, wages, and the relatively high prices of such highly important requisites of production as coal and steel. The most important immediate point at which the readjustment process appears to be 'sticking' is the retail price situation."

Wage and employment conditions were recently made the subject of a special inquiry by the federal reserve board. While the inquiry shows that labor is participating in the process of readjustment, the participation has been uneven as between different sections of the country, as between different lines of industry, and as between different groups of labor. Wage readjustment has been greater among unskilled workers and those not possessed of a strong trade organization, especially in sections of the country whose industries have felt the effects of readjustment to a high degree.

So far as the various industries themselves are concerned the outlook continues good in nearly all branches of agriculture, with favorable crop prospects and a substantial acreage. Textile industry has continued to show a seasonal increase in productive activity and this has extended to the knit goods and other allied branches of the trade. In the retail field demand has been sustained in the eastern sections of the country. Wholesale trade has shown an upward tendency due, no doubt, to the depletion of the stocks of retail dealers which were already low and have been further reduced by the seasonal spring demand.

Financial Settlement.

"Financially the month has been

$24 a Day, Plumber's Bill to Untermyer, Who Sent Him to Jail

New York, May 13.—Samuel Untermyer, nemesis of the contractors and building trades grafters' ring, certainly would like to send John M. Knight, plumber, to jail for profiteering but he can't. Knight is there already, serving a prison sentence on Blackwell's island for conspiring to boost prices.

Untermyer received a bill from the man whom he convicted. It charges him $1,680 for 70 days' work by plumber and helper in repairing his home. The union rate is $15 a day. Knight is trying to collect $24 a day from Untermyer.

DETENTION HOME SCORED IN REPORT

Branded as "Fire Trap" in Statement Made by the State Department of Public Welfare.

Condemning the juvenile detention home in Fulton county, which is located at Central and Trinity avenues, as a firetrap and declaring that the arrangement of the sleeping and detention quarters, in particular, do not provide for adequate supervision, the state department of public welfare has made a lengthy report to the county commissioners, following the recent inspection of the home by Boyce Edens.

The state board of welfare recommends to the commission that a new detention home be erected and that adequate equipment be installed to care properly for the needs of the institution. The building is declared a tumble-down residence with leaky roof, patched walls and rough floors, the entire building being unfit and unsuitable for a detention home. "In both appearance and suitability the word 'home' is a decided misnomer," said the report.

"The building is a veritable fire-trap and this fact may at any time be brought home to those responsible for its continued use should a night fire occur and make headway unnoticed. The fire hazard in this respect is greatly enhanced because there are no hose-reels, fire-escapes or extinguishers in the building. Then, too, the detention room where the children at times, of necessity, must be at night locked in, are on the second floor, the approach to which is made by a wooden stairway, says the report.

"On the second floor, on one side of the hall, are two detention, or bed rooms—one for white boys and one for an overflow population of colored and white. On the other side of this hall are two other such rooms, one for colored girls and one for colored boys. White girls are kept in the matron's room on the first floor.

"The vigorous prosecution of any sanitary routine in this old building is obviously discouraging and doubtless required Herculean effort to accomplish anything like satisfactory results. A musty odor, mingled with the disinfectant, which has been sprayed around the walls, is in evidence throughout the building. Countless numbers of tiny ants make it necessary to keep certain food supplies on the table in the dining room, the legs of which are placed in receptacles containing bug killer.

"Because of the unusual short stay of children in the home, baths, a complete change of underclothing and head inspection are not given children when admitted. Children kept in the house for any length of time are given all-over baths weekly and more often if necessary, with changes of clothing."

PLAN IS PROPOSED TO SAVE CHILDREN TEXT-BOOK MONEY

A plan to reduce the cost of text-books for school children, was adopted by the Peoples' street Parent-Teacher association at a meeting Thursday evening.

The plan is to establish a text-book exchange, where pupils, leaving one grade for a higher class, may sell their books, so that the incoming class may purchase them at not more than 50 per cent of the original cost, the price to be set by the teacher, after considering the conditions of the book.

"If all the public schools in Atlanta would adopt the system it is said that the probable saving would be about $125,000 yearly to parents, or more than $4 per pupil."

Murray Howard, 1102-3 Fourth National bank building, who presided at the meeting Thursday, said Friday that he would be glad to furnish information to other parent-teacher associations who are interested in the adoption of such a movement.

EMERGENCY BILL TO CHECK INFLUX OF ALIENS PASSED

Conference Report Adopted by House and Senate, Measure Goes to President for Approval.

SIEGEL WILL PROTEST BILL BEFORE HARDING

Restricts Immigration Until July, 1922, to 3 Per Cent of Nationality Here in 1910.

Washington, May 13.—The conference report on the emergency immigration restriction bill was adopted by the senate and house and the measure now will go to President Harding for his approval.

No opposition to the conference agreement developed in the senate, where Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, cast the only vote against the bill recently upon its passage. Chairman Colt, of the senate immigration committee, and other members explained the conference reports, stating that the house had agreed to elimination of provisions designed to admit the political refugees.

As revised in conference, the bill would go into effect fifteen days after it was signed by the president, and from that time until July 1, 1922, the number of aliens admitted to the United States would be limited to 3 per cent of the nationals of each country here in 1910.

Representative Siegel, New York, ranking republican on the immigration committee, said today he had carried his protest against the bill personally to President Harding, who has assured him it would have "earnest, careful and serious consideration."

That the measure is unworkable and would mitigate against desirable emigrants from a number of European countries.

WAR ALLIES SPLIT ON POLISH POLICY

Lloyd-George Statement to Commons Marks Break Between France and Britain— Peace Threatened.

BY A. E. JOHNSON
United News Staff Correspondent.

London, May 13.—Lloyd George's declaration to the house of commons that "The Polish invasion of the treaty of Versailles," marks the definite and open break between Great Britain and France regarding Middle-European policies.

The British premier, declaring that the peace of Europe was threatened in the Polish insurrection, further argued that Germany should be permitted to send troops into upper Silesia, her own province—as a matter of fair play.

Anglo-French differences of opinion, already far apart on the question of penalizing Germany for non-fulfillment of the Versailles treaty, Great Britain urging a benevolent attitude and France demanding repressive measures in every phase of the situation, are thus widened into almost irreparable breach.

France, declaring that the Silesian difficulty is a German-made movement, curtly refused a recent German request to be permitted to put down the revolt, declaring that there were plenty of allied troops in the territory, and rebuking the German government for daring to suggest such measures.

Germany, on the other hand, accuses France of backing her protégé Poland, in an attempt to overturn the Versailles treaty and force the handing over of rich Silesian territory to Poland, thus once more stripping the old empire of territorial benefits.

ALLIES MAY CANCEL PENALTIES.

Berlin, May 13.—An exchange of views is declared to be proceeding between the allies concerning the cancellation of the allied penalties, especially the Rhine customs barrier and the occupation of the Ruhr ports, in view of Germany's acceptance of the terms. It is reported here that Great Britain favors cancellation.

Can Horse Draw Pay In Addition to Hire? Commission Puzzled

Montclair, N. J., May 13.—The question before the local city commission is whether a horse may draw salary for personal services in addition to his hire, received by the owner.

"H. Bell," on the local city payroll, has been receiving $3 a day for "personal services" since January 1. John C. Barclay, the new park director claims the vouchers are invalid because "H. Bell" is a horse. The horse couldn't sign his name, being a poor penman, but the checks are indorsed "H. Bell (x) his mark."

DAMAGES ASKED FOR LOST TIME

Strikers File Suits Against Officers of Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks.

Damages for the time they lost when the officers of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, freight handlers, express and station employees, called a strike last year, the clerical help of the Central of Georgia railway were asked against E. H. Fitzgerald, acting grand president; J. B. Hagedorn and J. W. Thomas, vice grand presidents, and others, by a number of employees of the road who were members of the brotherhood in suits filed in the superior court Friday.

The suits were brought by Attorneys W. S. Coburn and Hugh Scott in behalf of V. C. Mason, Jr. for $175; H. O. Bass, $930; N. R. Norris, Jr., $535; L. I. Dennard, $175; J. R. Harris, $850; J. J. Freeman, $725, and W. H. Fuller, $715. Each petitioner asks for damages the amount he lost in salary as the result of having been called out in a strike by the officers, who afterwards stated that the strike was illegal and told the men to try to get paid by the back if they could, it is claimed.

Claims Made by Mason.

The allegations of V. C. Mason, Jr., are to the effect that he was a member of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, an organization for the protection and welfare of its members in securing employment, increases in salary and generally to better the working conditions and to aid in making them secure in their positions.

The petitioner says that to become a member of the organization he paid an initiation fee of $5 and took an oath to abide by the constitution and laws of the organization and to obey all lawful orders of the officers of the grand lodge and the officers of any subordinate lodge to which he became attached.

On May 17, 1920, the defendants, he claims, through their vice grand president, J. W. Thomas, acting under the scope of his authority, ordered the petitioner away from his post of duty with the employer until the differences had been settled. He further alleges that as a means of inducement to the men to obey the order promptly the defendant, through Thomas, told the men that if they obeyed the order they would be properly adjusted, and that the brotherhood would give the strikers 100 per cent support.

Promises Fulfilled.

The suit sets out that the promise of the defendant was false and fraudulent, that the petitioner struck along with a number of other employees and that after they had been out two weeks on June 3, 1920, the grand president declared the strike illegal and called it off and asked the petitioner to get his job back if he could. The petitioner informed that his position had been filled by other parties and that he was discharged.

The petitioner claims that he reported his discharge to the defendant, that they made no effort to secure his reinstatement and that he was unable to get employment anywhere from May 17, 1920, to July 6, 1920. He further alleges that the defendants ought to have known by the exercise of ordinary care at the time of calling a strike that they could not fulfill the promises made to the petitioner in order to induce him to obey the strike order.

WHOLESALE ENDS CINCINNATI MEET; RE-ELECT CHIEF

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 13.—The Southern Wholesale Grocers' association concluded its convention here today with the re-election of the twelfth term of the president, J. H. McLaurin, Jacksonville, Fla., at a salary of $25,000 a year.

Resolutions were passed endorsing the merchant broker; the use of cotton instead of burlap for shipping bags; mileage books at lower rates, and that railroads be not permitted to increase rates without the sanction of the interstate commerce commission. A resolution demanding lower hotel rates was tabled. The place of the next convention will be selected later.

FAIR SMOKER ARRESTED

Lucille Morris of 227 Courtland street, a pretty telephone operator, had a taste Friday night of what may become a regular experience for all if the "blue Sunday" advocates ever acquire power, when she was arrested for smoking a cigarette at Pryor and Decatur streets. The curling tobacco smoke attracted the unfavorable attention of Officers Stegall and Garrett, and they arrested the girl on charges of disorderly conduct.

Her escort, J. F. Price, of 234 Formwalt street, accompanied her to the station, at the request of the officers, who booked a similar charge against him. When searched, a half pint of liquor was found in his pocket, and he was held on $200 bond. The young woman was released when she put up $25 as collateral.

HUNGER ADDS WOE TO LEADEN DEATH IN MINERS' BATTLE

Six Known Dead, and Many Others Reported, in Gun Fight Raging in Mountains.

TWELVE-MILE FRONT FOR WILD CONFLICT

Army Staff Officer Sent to Investigate, While State Police Admit Failure in Crisis.

Williamson, W. Va., May 13.—Hunger stalked hand in hand with death Friday night along a twelve-mile front in the Tug River valley, on the border of this state and Kentucky, over which the battle between the hillmen and mine guards, residents of the towns and police, which has continued for two days and two nights, was still raging unchecked.

Six persons are known to have been killed. Numerous other deaths have thirty-three reported but not confirmed. Many have been wounded. Scores of women and children are trapped in mines and cellars in which they sought refuge soon after the battle started. They have been cut off from food and water, and attempts to reach them have been blocked by the heavy machine gun and rifle fire which has been raging practically unintermittently.

Refugees who arrived here Friday night from Gates and New Howard said that the fighting was hottest about those two towns, and that the entire population fled or was fleeing.

Asks for Truce.

An emissary of the state forces taking part in the battle, late tonight approached the stronghold of a leader of the mountaineers under a flag of truce, and asked that the mountain men cease firing into villages in this region. This information was received here tonight from Chief Deputy Sheriff John Hall, who sent one of his men into the hills to confer with the attacking party. Hall reported to Sheriff A. C. Pinson that his emissary, carrying a piece of white muslin on a stick, reached the party of men who were raising the flag of truce to a nearby town. The mountaineers respected the white flag, and when the deputy made known his mission of peace, according to Hall, a leader of the forces opposed to the state officers replied that the hill men would accept a truce only when the firing from the Kentucky side of the river had ceased.

Killed on Hero's Errand.

Two men were killed near Blackberry City, near Albion, Ky. Dapp Whit, a miner, was shot dead as he approached the stronghold.

ACTION IS TAKEN DESPITE MEETING SLATED TONIGHT

Friends State That Sutton Will Accept Place If It Is Tendered Him by the Board.

ELECTION MAY BRING NEW CHARTER BATTLE

Sutton, It Is Stated, Will Receive the Votes of Men Who Elected M. L. Brittain.

Election of W. A. Sutton, principal of Tech High school, to succeed W. F. Dykes as superintendent of the Atlanta school system, expected at a meeting of the board of education called for 10 o'clock this morning by W. W. Gaines, president of the board.

The hasty call for the meeting was issued Friday afternoon following a series of consultations in the office of Mayor Key, who received visits from Mr. Gaines, Mr. Sutton, Major R. J. Guinn, former president of the board of education; John Martin and Ernest Buchanan, who have been active in the fight against Mr. Dykes.

Sutton, it is said, will receive the votes of the four commissioners who last Monday ousted Mr. Dykes in favor of State Superintendent of Schools M. L. Brittain, whom they elected without his knowledge and could not induce to serve. They are Mayor Key, Councilman W. A. Sims and Commissioners Carl Hutcheson and W. W. Gaines.

Friends of Mr. Sutton stated Friday that he will accept the place, if elected. Asked if their conclusions were true Mr. Sutton said he didn't know that he would be elected, if nominated, and had no statement to make.

Extraordinary schools already indignant at the secret method the four commissioners used last Monday, were outspoken in their indignation Friday night when they learned that the president has hurried the election call, fixing it ahead of the mass meeting scheduled for Saturday night at the chamber of commerce, called to protest the method used to defeat Dykes.

Civil leaders and others expressed amazement that in the face of general opinion rebuking their action the commissioners are preparing to rush into another election.

The mass meeting will begin at 8 o'clock. Hundreds will pack the assembly hall, and after a withering fire on the commissioners the opening gun in a fight for a new city charter will be heard, it is predicted.

One prominent leader said Friday night: "There will be no shedding of tears over the members who have seen fit to defy the will of the people and common decency, but their action will set off the opening gun that will be heard throughout the city in determined battle for a new charter."

Meeting to Draw Crowd.

Council chamber will be crowded this morning when President Gaines calls the board to order to elect a superintendent. The effort Friday to effect a compromise were promptly

HUNGER ADDS WOE TO LEADS DEATH

he left the mouth of a mine to obtain water from a nearby stream to relieve the thirst of more than a score of women and children in hiding from the rain of bullets. The authorities estimated Friday night that more than 30,000 rounds of ammunition had been fired in the last twenty-four hours. All wire communications between this place and the battle zone was reported to have been cut or shot down, and only meager reports were available. The bodies of Whit and a man by the name of Smith, or Goslin, are still lying on the bridge at Albion, where they fell. It is impossible to reach them on account of the continuous firing. Bodies of four other men are said to be in the neighborhood of Sulphur Creek, in the same locality. Law-abiding citizens are afraid to attempt to rescue the bodies, and the names of the dead have not been learned.

Sees Husband Shot.

Mrs. Carl Butcher reported to the sheriff that her husband and Charles Stafford had both been shot at Merriam. Mr. and Mrs. Butcher and her sister, Winnie Crothers, and Stafford, a half-brother, left this city on an early morning train to look after relatives whom they feared were in the trouble zone. They were fired on as they stepped off the train. They took refuge in a sewer under the banks of the river, and remained there until an eastbound freight train stopped at the station. The men boarded the train seeking safety, and reached the top of a box car, when they were both shot, falling to the ground. The two women ran and were freed on several times as they made their way down the railroad. They did not know whether the men were killed or not. They came all the way to this city on foot, and were almost exhausted when they reached here. All the section east of Matewan was in darkness Friday night because the electric light wires of the Kentucky and Tug river have been shot down by the fighting.

Dynamite Under Fire.

Yesterday evening 2,000 pounds of dynamite were unloaded by a freight crew at the Albion tippie, which is located on the West Virginia side. Fear was entertained that the heavy fire would set off this explosive, and heavy for them to attempt so dangerous a mission. The dynamite was in boxes, piled alongside the railroad tracks and near the tippie. One arrest was made Friday by Pike county officials, who made a detour and succeeded in getting to the rear of the attacking party at Merriam. Most of those doing the shooting escaped, after firing on the officials, but they succeeded in capturing Richard Beverly, said to be a strike miner. Beverly refused to make a statement to the officers. He was taken to Pikeville and lodged in jail.

Story of Trouble.

The attack on the mining towns is declared by the authorities to be an outgrowth of the disturbed conditions which have prevailed along the upper Tug river with varying intensity since last May 19 when a party of private detectives sent to escort miners from company houses at Matewan became involved in a conflict with the people of that town. Seven detectives and three of the town's residents were killed. A trial of miners in this section was called last July and has since been in progress. On two other occasions federal troops have been called into Mingo county to restore order.

The fiercest fighting this morning occurred at McCarr where, according to Captain Brockus, sympathizers of miners are heavily armed with dozen machine guns and automatic rifles. Thousands of shots have been fired at McCarr alone, he said. Captain Brockus ordered his men at McCarr to refrain from becoming embroiled with the battlers. Asserting that both sides, the men concealed in the hills and the guards at the mine, were "itching" for trouble there, he said would not expose any of his men or that of the federal troops. Brockus was plainly nettled at the attitude of the officials of Pike county, Kentucky, asserting that he had been raised so far as he knew to check the firing from the Kentucky side.

Call for Troops.

News that Governor Morgan of West Virginia had called on President Harding for federal troops and that a similar request had been made by Governor Morrow of Kentucky, brought relief to the officials and residents of the embattled towns. The combined force of state police and deputies available to cover the twenty miles or more of mountainous country where industrial hostilities have centered for a year is scarcely more than sixty men. Of this number is a small force to maintain reserves and garrisons at points which at present are quiet. They are regarded by the miners as scenes of possible outbreaks.

Shows Discipline.

Captain Brockus said today that yesterday's fighting was a display of the mountain gunnery with discipline and control. He said, "The fire at the tippie was controlled by a man with a lusty fox horn. When he blew one long blast firing ceased, and when he blew three blasts a gun was silenced." There were rumors at noon that a mass meeting of miners would be held here this afternoon and conference by union leaders. It was held this morning with that end in view although no definite announcement was made at the time of the meeting was made.

STAFF OFFICER TO INVESTIGATE.

Washington, May 13.—Action on the requests of the governors of West Virginia and Kentucky that federal troops be sent to quell disturbances on the Mingo county border between the states is being withheld by the war department pending the report of staff officer sent from the headquarters of the fifth corps area at Benjamin Harrison, Ind., today to investigate the situation. Should the staff officer endorse the request that federal troops be sent, the whole question will be referred to President Harding, before any action is taken. It was reported today that the war department had some doubt whether the department itself had authority. General Read at Fort Benjamin Harrison advised the department he was holding troops in readiness.

ANTI-DYKES FACTION WOULD ELECT SUTTON

silenced by Mr. Dykes, and the three commissioners who voted for him against the sudden and successful movement to oust him. Efforts were reported to compromise the controversy by inducing Mr. Brittain to reconsider his decision not to sever the postmaster from Mr. Dykes' assistant superintendent. "You can say for me that I would entertain no such proposition," said Mr. Dykes, when told of the rumor. Though the rumor persisted, neither the three commissioners nor Mr. Dykes were approached by the opposition to settle the matter on such a basis. When told of the proposition they gave no credence to the report that Mr. Brittain had sanctioned it or even had any knowledge of it. Subsequent inquiry showed that he did not.

Reinstatement of Mr. Dykes has been demanded in resolutions adopted by the Atlanta School Improvement club, the League of Women Voters and Parent-Teacher bodies.

Oppose Method Used.

Action of the board has been vigorously protested in resolutions passed by the faculties of the Boys' High school, Commercial High school, and C. E. Phillips president of the Atlanta Public School Teachers' association, stated Thursday that forty-three out of forty-five school faculties in Atlanta have gone on record opposing the method of the board in ousting Mr. Dykes.

"We have canvassed all of the schools," said Mr. Phillips, "and the teachers in forty-three of the forty-five are bitterly opposed to the action of the board in summarily dismissing an employee without previous notice. The other two schools have not taken any action. I understand."

A letter also has been issued by William F. Buchanan, of the class of 1908, at the Boys' High school, calling on the alumni of that institution to attend the mass meeting tonight and take a strong stand for the man whom they knew so well while he was principal and teacher there.

TELLS OF DELIVERING BOOZE TO MARTIN

narrative was when he revealed that he had advance notice of the publication of the famous Woodward letter.

"I caught Aldine Chambers coming out of John Y. Smith's office one day and as soon as Chambers had departed John Y. Smith told me they were framing a letter on me to send me to the penitentiary and he'll testify the same thing if you want my evidence corroborated," declared Ewing.

Late in Arriving.

Principals were a bit late in arriving for the Friday night session, but Chairman Walter A. Sims managed to call the meeting to order at 7:35 o'clock, so that Mr. Black could call C. H. Carroll, of the Western Union, to the stand, to testify concerning the telegrams sent from the First National bank of Lakeland, Fla., to Atlanta police authorities. The original receipts were brought into court, one being signed by Chief Poole, "per Lindsey," the other by J. W. Hollingsworth.

Chief Beavers produced a letter from Missouri which had been requested in one of Mr. Black's subpoenas to whom he had sold whisky.

"I've sold to Ras Brown who represented the wholesaler and he'd brought the admission that Johnson had been discharged from the service because he slapped a 14-year-old boy.

Johnson had testified that the daily receipts of the cafe were about $100 a day, and Mr. Martin wanted to know where he learned that. Witness said from the cash book.

When Mr. Martin asked the witness if he had been arrested for the assault on a lady in front of the Arlington hotel, Johnson said that he was so drunk that he didn't know where he was arrested. Mr. Martin tried to continue his questions, but the witness shouted, "I'm going to tell where I got that liquor—you gave it to me."

Mr. Martin asked the admission that Johnson had been arrested and convicted for robbery on two occasions, one time for the robbery of the American Express company.

Henry Smith Testifies.

Henry Smith, a plumber, and a resident of Atlanta until last November testified that during 1920 he delivered whisky to Al Martin, sometimes twice a week, again once a week, and still again once a week. The deliveries were made, he said, to an upstairs place on Hunter street.

Mr. Black: "What was the largest delivery you ever made to him?"

Witness: "Twenty-eight gallons."

Mr. Black: "Did any policeman ever see you deliver a delivery?"

Witness: "I don't know. I used to follow me to Martin's to see that I got there with the stuff."

Witness: "A big red Hudson coupe."

NAT M'WHORTER AGAIN ARRESTED ON WIFE'S CHARGE

Nat McWhorter, the alleged bootlegger, was arrested Friday shortly after midnight for the third time since he testified at the bunco probe that he had paid Detective Payne $200 a week for several years to secure protection for his "blind tiger" business. Officer Wiley brought him to the police station after the negro had threatened to kill his wife, according to Mr. Wiley.

Nat was arrested twice immediately after he testified against the detective, once for alleged beating of his wife and again the same day for beating his sister-in-law. It was claimed. On Friday he was charged with disorderly conduct and put up the usual $15 collateral.

He admitted that Woodward gave him some furniture. Ewing said that Woodward told him that he owned part interest in Martin's cafe. The witness stated several times that he did not know of Woodward's bunco activities. The witness did not believe that the man arrested in Chicago was really the man who fled from Arthur J. Mitchell.

Charge sheets at the store of Follock and Berg were shown by Ewing, showing where Detectives Waggoner, Weeks, Tipton, Malcolm and Gillespie had procured articles of wearing apparel, charging them to Ewing's account.

On one occasion, said Ewing, he found an item on his account—a hat procured by Bob Waggoner—which he had not authorized. He went to Woodward about it and the item was subsequently transferred to the account of the alleged bunco maker. It was on the suggestion of Floyd Woodward that his account was opened, Ewing declared, and the bills were paid with money he received from Woodward.

At this juncture, it was noticed by a Councilman that at 11 o'clock he had arrived five minutes before, so adjournment until Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock was called.

WOMEN VOTERS MEET IN AUGUST TODAY

Augusta, Ga., May 13.—(Special.) The Georgia League of Women Voters will meet in state convention here Saturday. The meeting will be held in the St. Paul church parish house. After the morning session, from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. luncheon will be served by the ladies of St. Paul's parish and the two addresses of the convention will be delivered by Mrs. Julian B. Salley, chairman of the third regional board of the League of Women Voters, and Mrs. Frank G. McIntyre, of Savannah, the Georgia member of the national democratic executive committee.

Reconvening at 3:30 o'clock, the league will elect officers. Miss Annie G. Wright, of Augusta, a new president, and Miss Elliott Cheatham, of Atlanta, is vice chairman, with Miss W. Aiken, of Savannah, secretary. The meeting will adjourn at 6 p. m. At 8:30 there will be a reception at the Coweta county courthouse. Mrs. Emily C. McDougall, who was president of the former Women Suffrage league of Georgia, arrived here tonight, and with Mrs. T. C. Hudson, of Columbus, is in guest at the home of Miss Annie G. Wright.

The fact that her husband is now indicted in Fulton superior court for assault with intent to murder was brought out in cross-examination.

Smith, the 18-year-old son of Mrs. Smith, came to the stand and corroborated the testimony of his mother. He was of cross-examination.

Pearl Smith, the 14-year-old daughter, testified and testified to the same thing.

Joe Ewing Applauded. Joe Ewing was called to the stand and applauded as he took his seat. He started out by his coming to Atlanta with the Western Union, and his services as an evidence man for Mr. Boykin, while he was in the private practice of law, which he had been employed in the solicitor-general's office, he declared. He recounted the circumstances in which he had been interested and declared that in many of them, where policemen were in any way involved, he had been blocked and every impediment put in his way by the detectives.

In answer to a question by Chairman Sims he declared that he had Ward and Allen case he did not appear and that the matter was handled by John Y. Smith.

He recounted representing a number of men when they were arrested in minor charges in the police court.

The Powers case he declared that he was sent to the police station by Floyd Woodward. He went to the station in an endeavor to have Powers released on bond. Chief Poole told him that he would not permit the release of Powers as his men were investigating. The following day he met Woodward with John Y. Smith. Woodward had $5,000 in one hand and another in the other. Ewing testified, "He told us to go up to the Piedmont hotel and get the money and he would get them to drop the case for $5,000."

"He told us if we could do this he would give us $2,000. We told him that we couldn't monkey with state witnesses—it was too dangerous. We said we had been charged with retaining the best lawyer in Atlanta and suggested Reuben H. Arnold."

John Y. Woodward and myself went to see Mr. Arnold. He told us that it was a difficult case but that if we would stay in the case we would take the case for $1,000. "We thought the matter had been closed and went back to town. The next night I got a telephone message from Woodward. He was excited and told me the solicitor had paid my cash game and told me to rush down and get the men out."

Makes Bond for Men. "I hurried to the station and made bond for three of the men. That's the last I saw of Woodward, but I understand that before he left he had declared I had done him wrong by advising Wade and Holley to report their cases to the solicitor-general."

In reference to the Mills case, he declared that both he and John Y. Smith had been severely censured by Mr. Boykin for their activities in Woodward's behalf in that matter. "What were Woodward's instructions to you when any of his men got in trouble?" asked Chairman Sims.

"Always to get bond fixed at the lowest figure and then to put up collateral," replied Ewing.

"Now, in reference to this Woodward letter," said the witness, "I had a warning that it was going to be made public long before it came out. I happened to go to John Y. Smith's office one day and caught Aldine Chambers there. After he left John Y. told me that they were preparing to spring a letter on me. He said they are going to leave me out of this thing but they're going to give you hell—try to send you to the penitentiary. He also gave me the advance dope on that Renard business. John Y. said that they were framing to make me appear as a stealer for the bunco crowd but I told him I was ready to fight them then and there."

Got Half of Payment. Ewing said that all of his transactions for Woodward were paid for on the basis that gave Mr. Smith half and Ewing half.

With reference to the affidavits sent to Chicago by Strausender, Ewing said that Detective Arthur wouldn't sign until Chief Poole had told him it was all right. He said that Lieutenant Waggoner gave him the telegram which was copied in the affidavit. He said he first saw the telegram in the detective's office. He also said that Waggoner agreed to go to Chicago to testify orally.

He admitted that Woodward gave him some furniture. Ewing said that Woodward told him that he owned part interest in Martin's cafe. The witness stated several times that he did not know of Woodward's bunco activities. The witness did not believe that the man arrested in Chicago was really the man who fled from Arthur J. Mitchell.

Charge sheets at the store of Follock and Berg were shown by Ewing, showing where Detectives Waggoner, Weeks, Tipton, Malcolm and Gillespie had procured articles of wearing apparel, charging them to Ewing's account.

On one occasion, said Ewing, he found an item on his account—a hat procured by Bob Waggoner—which he had not authorized. He went to Woodward about it and the item was subsequently transferred to the account of the alleged bunco maker. It was on the suggestion of Floyd Woodward that his account was opened, Ewing declared, and the bills were paid with money he received from Woodward.

At this juncture, it was noticed by a Councilman that at 11 o'clock he had arrived five minutes before, so adjournment until Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock was called.

Are You Still in Love?

If not, there's something wrong with you. Even beyond the age of sixty you should feel the desire and inclination to play. Most of the feelings and emotions of youth and of vigorous manhood and womanhood should continue to prevail in a healthy human body. The health and efficiency of all bodily organs depend on the efficiency of the individual CELLS of those organs. REGENERATOR restores energy to the vital organs.

Is Your Heart All Right?

The motive power of the entire human body centers in the heart. Imperfect operation of this most important organ is dangerous and generally proves fatal. As the heart pumps the blood through the system it is constantly feeding the millions of tiny CELLS which form the entire body organism. On the proper action of the heart, or the CELLS which compose the heart, depends the proper delivery of food and air and the removal of waste matter. Being the most vital organ of the human body, it is also one of the most sensitive, and is very susceptible to stimulation—physically, mentally and emotionally. Most drugs act quickly upon the heart, and are dangerous.

REGENERATOR

—contains no injurious drugs and is not a strong or dangerous stimulant. Its action on the heart is very mild and gradual, yet sufficiently strong to afford wonderful aid in correcting any ailment of this organ. It is a FOOD and STIMULANT that strengthens and builds up the CELLS of the heart, thereby aiding in the restoration of Nature's most wonderful mechanism.

NEGRO CONTINUES TO ELUDE POSSE, AFTER SHOOTING

Senola, Ga., May 13.—(Special.)—Boziah Ross, the negro sought by between four and six hundred armed men from Coweta, Meriwether, Pike, Fayette and Spalding counties, in connection with the shooting of J. A. Kempson, a deputy sheriff of Coweta county, is still at large. Last reports stated that the negro is believed to have been located in the neighborhood of Senola. J. B. Brewster has offered a reward of $250 for the negro dead or alive. It was reported that when the deputy sheriff approached the negro in a field Wednesday to arrest him, the negro drew a pistol and shot the officer. He then, it is charged, took the deputy's pistol from him and while the officer was on the ground, and with it fired five more bullets into the body of the prostrate man. The shooting is said to have been witnessed by a white boy named William Gilbert, who charged with stealing gasoline from County Warde Gilbert. The condition of Deputy Kempson, physicians declare, is critical.

Professor A. T. Osbron Gives Psychological Lecture on Thursday

Professor A. T. Osbron, noted psychological student and lecturer, Thursday evening addressed a large audience in the Central Congregational church on a "scientific demonstration of a future life."

Professor Osbron has distinguished himself throughout the known world on his production and explanations of so-called spiritualistic phenomena, and in this lecture gave an exposition of the relationship these phenomena sustain to immortality.

An interesting discourse on the project Thomas A. Edison is at present engaged upon, in attempting to perfect an instrument whereby communication with the departed may be practiced, was made by Professor Osbron, who stated that while he wished Mr. Edison success, he was sure that he would not succeed.

WRITER'S DAUGHTER DIES OF ACCIDENT

Emporia, Kans., May 12.—Mary White, sixteen year old daughter of William Allen White, noted writer and publicist, died here Friday of a fractured skull.

Miss White was raked from a horse she was riding by the low limb of a tree.

She never sings the old, old songs. She shrieks in days of yore. She never thumps the keyboard now. Until her thumbs are sore. She never more will play. She faltered with the instalments, and they've taken it away.

HILL TURNS DOWN PLACE AT TOKIO

Washington, May 13.—Dr. David Hill, of New York, who conferred with President Harding today, is understood to have definitely declined to be considered for ambassador to Japan, and it is believed he is foremost among those who under consideration for ambassador to Germany when diplomatic relations with that country are resumed.

Dr. Hill, a former ambassador to Berlin, discussed foreign affairs with President Harding preparatory to an extended visit to Europe. It is understood during the trip he will make inquiries regarding conditions particularly in Germany where he has a wide acquaintance and that although the visit will be entirely unofficial, the state department will be given the benefit of his conferences and observations abroad.

No definite announcement has been made, but until today the general impression had been that Dr. Hill would take the ambassadorship at Tokio. Because he had obligated himself to spend the summer in Europe on business, however, he decided he could not take the Tokio appointment which officials here want to fill in the immediate future. He is understood to have so informed the president at today's conference.

FORMER GEORGIAN, HOME FROM EAST, CAPITAL VISITOR

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMAN,
Constitution Bureau.

Washington, May 13.—(By Constitution Bureau Wire.)—Roy Anderson, of Pekin, China, a former Georgian, alumnus of Emory college, and today confidential adviser to several of the military governors who constitute the republic to government of China, is in Washington direct from the far eastern home and before returning will visit Atlanta.

Mr. Anderson is regarded as the best posted man in China, either native or foreign, on Chinese internal governmental affairs. In addition to the demands upon him in strictly governmental matters he is largely interested in Chinese trade connections with American interests and has accumulated a fortune in his chosen country.

Mr. Anderson's father for a brief time was connected with The Atlanta Constitution in its early days. He was a minister and educator and went to China as a missionary. There he became president of the Soe Chow university, and young Roy Anderson, after graduating from Emory college, joined his father in the Orient and rapidly forged ahead until he enjoys the distinction today of being one of the most prominent native Americans in continental Asia.

Railway Telegraphers Change Organization At Meeting in Savannah

Savannah, May 13.—The Order of Railway Telegraphers' convention here has adopted a resolution eliminating local lodges and providing for railroad system divisions effective sixty days after the convention adjourns.

BUSINESS SECTION OF TOWN DESTROYED

Lexington, Tenn., May 13.—The business section of Wildersville, a town of 800 people, about ten miles from here, was wiped out by fire late today. Six general stores, the postoffice, bank, drug store and railroad depot were among the buildings destroyed. The loss will exceed $100,000, according to reports reaching here. The town is shut off from communication by wire, as the telephone exchange burned, as well as the telegraph office. No casualties were reported.

WILL KILL DAIRY HERD TO SAFEGUARD PUBLIC

Savannah, Ga., May 13.—(Special.) Federal inspectors having found it is reported, cases of tuberculosis in some of the cows of the fine Hereford dairy here of J. S. Wansley, Mr. Wansley had several animals slaughtered yesterday for inspection, and today declared that to be absolutely safe he would kill every one of his 120 cows, some of which are valued at $600.

The total herd is valued at $45,000. Thirty-six cows were killed today and only one or two were found infected, but the whole herd will be slaughtered.

Alleged Female Bluebeard Held After Four Die

Honolulu, May 13.—Mrs. Paul Vincent Southard was held here today in connection with the death of her fourth husband, Edward F. Meyer, who died in a hospital at Pocatello, Idaho, August 20, last. An autopsy has revealed traces of poison, according to the report of physicians forwarded here.

Mrs. Southard was arrested yesterday and was held incommunicado, although she expressed a willingness to return to the mainland without extradition. Territorial officers said arrangements for her early extradition were being made here.

Mrs. Southard is the wife of a navy chief petty officer. She is also known by the name of Mrs. Lydia Meyer.

The Southards arrived in Honolulu from San Francisco January 12. They were married in Los Angeles last November. Mrs. William Stetzer, of Honolulu, who said she knew Mrs. Southard in San Francisco, said she knew her as a "good, sweet woman."

The landlady of the rooming house where the Southards stayed said when the police arrived to arrest Mrs. Southard, that she went without protest.

Mrs. Southard since her arrest has been kept from the public view and her name has not been put on the police blotter. Only the woman's husband was permitted to see her last night. Mr. Southard, chief petty officer of the U. S. S. Monterey, was recently transferred from the U. S. S. Chicago. Both Mr. and Mrs.

Southard are said to be under 30 years of age.

Southard, in a statement to newspaper men, denied an assertion attributed to him by the police that he had taken out $10,000 worth of life insurance. He said he did not carry any life insurance and that his wife never had asked him to take out any.

"My wife denies all the charges against her," he said. "She has always been a good, true wife to me and I never had any reason to doubt her in any way. I have absolute confidence in her innocence. She will be proven innocent."

Southard declared Mrs. Southard had not enjoyed good health since coming to Hawaii and that both he and she were anxious to return to Idaho. Mrs. Southard, he declared, will make no fight against possible extradition to Twin Falls. The navy man said his wife was almost prostrated as the result of the shock of her arrest, which followed an illness.

Accident Insurance Basis of Two Suits In Wheatley Death

Americus, Ga., May 13.—(Special.) Two suits, aggregating $11,125, have been filed in Sumter superior court by Mrs. Helen H. Wheatley against the United States Fidelity and Casualty company. The suits are based on two accident policies carried by the late Crawford Wheatley, president of the defendant Commercial City bank, of Americus, for $5,000 each.

In connection with filing of the suits, it is revealed that the body of the banker was exhumed here several weeks ago, at which time it was examined by physicians representing the insurance company.

These physicians were Dr. Richard V. Lamar, of the faculty of the Georgia State medical college at Augusta, and Dr. W. S. Prather, of Americus. Their report has not been made public, but it is said one of these physicians found death to be due to accidental causes while the other "found no apparent cause of death sufficient to base an opinion upon."

MANY SINN FEINERS IN IRISH PARLIAMENT

Dublin, May 13.—Eamon De Valera, president of the "Irish republic" and Arthur Griffith, vice president of the Sinn Fein organization, were elected, opposed, to the south of Ireland parliament in the election Friday for the Clare and Cavan districts, respectively, the districts which they once represented as members of the British parliament.

All the other Sinn Fein candidates, being opposed, also were elected in 120 south of Ireland constituencies. The parliament is not expected to function, however.

The new members include Lord Mayor O'Callaghan, of Cork, and Miss MacSwiney, sister of the late lord mayor of Cork, both of whom were elected from Cork and both of whom are now in the United States furthering the Irish republican campaign.

Countess Markievicz and Mrs. Clark, wife of a Dublin alderman; Mrs. Pearce of Dublin county and Mrs. O'Callaghan, widow of the late lord mayor of the city of Limerick, also were elected.

Forty of the newly elected members of the southern parliament are now in jail and many others are fugitives from justice, hunted by the police and military forces.

"Seeking if I can find an honest man" were the famous words of Diogenes as he walked down the streets of Rome one day carrying a lantern in open daylight when asked what he was doing. JACK KELLOY DENIED NEW TRIAL PETITION

Jack Kelloy, who was convicted of the murder of Leroy Trexler, young Atlanta taxi driver, several months ago, must pay the penalty of death on the gallows, as imposed by the spalding county superior court, according to a decision handed down by the state supreme court Friday. His conviction and sentence were upheld by the higher court.

Trexler was found slain in his automobile on a side road a short distance from Griffin, after leaving Atlanta with Kelloy. The latter was arrested after disappearing, and stood trial in Griffin. He has maintained his innocence since his arrest. At present he is in the Griffin jail.

"It's mighty strange that I have to serve some other man's term," said Kelloy, when informed by Sheriff W. T. Freeman of Spalding county of the supreme court's decision. He repeated his former denials of guilt, and immediately started to write a letter to Governor Dorsey.

A favorite holiday pastime among the schoolboys of Naples is to collect lumps of lava from Vesuvius, still warm and soft, and to stick coins in the centers of them before they harden.

MILLER IS CLEARED OF SERIOUS CHARGE BY THOMAS JURY

Thomasville, Ga., May 13.—(Special.)—A verdict of not guilty was Friday night returned by the jury in the case of John M. Miller, of Boston, Ga., charged with making a criminal assault on an 8-year-old girl of Boston. The verdict was reached and announced in five minutes after the case had been submitted to the jury. It is not believed that another case against Miller, in connection with an alleged assault against another young girl, will be tried at the present term of court.

The defense introduced four doctors, who had examined the children. They stated that a criminal assault had not, in their opinion, been committed. Miller said that he had left Boston because he had been informed that his life was in danger. He went in his automobile to Jacksonville, he stated, and there he was stopped with a relative. He was arrested in Jacksonville. Character witnesses from Boston and Jacksonville testified to his good character, so far as they knew.

ASK HEARING SOON ON FREIGHT RATES

Senator Harris Seeks Early Appearance Before I. C. C. for Melon Men: Cut Needed by June 20.

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMAN.
Constitution Bureau.
Raleigh Hotel.

Washington, May 13.—(By Constitution Bureau.)—The Interstate Commerce Commission today received a letter from Senator Harris, of Georgia, asking for a hearing on the watermelon growers of Georgia in support of their petition to reduce freight rates on watermelons from the southern shipping points to the eastern and northern markets.

Senator Harris acted for J. J. Parham, secretary-manager of the Georgia Watermelon Growers' Association with headquarters at Adel, Mr. Parham telegraphed Senator Harris that action was necessary before June 20, if the commission would take up the case.

It is feared that the crowded condition of the dockets of the interstate commerce commission will make it impossible to hear and decide the watermelon rate case. This view is the prevailing one here since the letter made public yesterday from Vice President Green, of the Southern railway, to Senator Harris, asking for an investigation of the commission with a copy of Mr. Green's letter to him, and pointed out the unfair situation said to exist.

GOVERNOR SENT SECOND LETTER BY JUDGE SEARCY

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMAN.
Constitution Bureau.
Raleigh Hotel.

Governor Hugh M. Dorsey announced Friday night that he had not received Judge W. E. H. Searcy's letter attacking his policy in publishing his booklet on "The Negro in Georgia," and could not outline what action he would take on the matter until the communication had arrived.

The governor replied to Judge Searcy's first attack Friday morning, and the judge, who resides at Griffin, sent him the following letter, sending it to the Atlanta newspapers:

"Governor Hugh M. Dorsey, State Capitol, Atlanta, Ga.
"Dear Sir:—I am sending you my letter to me, again indicting your state and its courts and people, I demand a matter of right, to say nothing of fair play and justice, the names of your investigators and of your citizens who stated a committee waiting on me and obtained a promise of a chain-saw sentence from me in advance of trial of those whom you say stated the trial of White was a fake and a travesty of justice."

"Secret bucket letter attacks on Georgia, her people, officers and courts must stop. Either these things are true or they are contemptible, cowardly lies. These interested and the people are entitled to the facts and witnesses. Let us have them."
"WILLIAM E. H. SEARCY, JR.,

LOANS $2,000,000 TO SHIP COTTON

War Finance Corporation Approves Two Applications of Million Each for Exports.

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMAN.
Constitution Bureau.
Raleigh Hotel.

Washington, May 13.—(By Constitution Bureau.)—The war finance corporation approved two applications for advances of $1,000,000 each to finance shipments of cotton overseas.

The first was in connection with shipment of cotton to foreign ports for warehousing and distribution. This cotton will go forward to Liverpool, Havre, Genoa, Bremen and Kobe, Japan.

The other application was for an advance of $1,000,000 to finance the exportation of cotton from American interior points and American ports, under contracts calling for shipments from October to December, inclusive.

The war finance corporation also announced that, in connection with its recently announced approval of an advance of $2,000,000 to assist in the exportation of cotton to warehouses in foreign ports, it has to date advanced $1,600,000 against cotton actually exported. This financing of cotton will assist in maintaining adequate stocks near the points of consumption, and thereby facilitate business.

The distributing points to which the cotton has been consigned are Liverpool, Trieste, Genoa, Venice and Bremen. Cotton consigned to Havre is distributed to the nearby mills, and also to mills in the interior of France and Alsace-Lorraine, as well as in Switzerland. Cotton to the Italian ports will be distributed to Italian mills, and to Austria. Cotton consigned to Czechoslovakia, Austria, Poland and Sweden.

RAIL OWNERSHIP FOR U. S. HINTED

Increase in Claims Against Treasury "Threaten" Private Control, Says Committee Chairman.

Washington, May 13.—Deficits in present railroad operations and the increase in claims against the treasury arising from war-time government control threaten the permanency of private ownership in transportation, Chairman Cummins, of the senate interstate commerce committee, said today during cross-examination of Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the board of the Southern Pacific.

In the general investigation of the railroad situation, from railroad administration accounts, Senator Cummins said, he concluded the government placed the total liability to the railroad corporations at $1,200,000,000, while the roads themselves claimed a total of $2,500,000,000. The final sum to be taken from the government in settlement, he added, very probably would be around $1,800,000,000.

Continuation of deficits from operations, Cummins said, would also have to be met from the treasury, unless the railroads succeeded in increasing revenues or reducing expenditures.

Mr. Kruttschnitt said the growing claims for cash under the guarantee arose out of under maintenance of railroad equipment and road beds during the period of government control.

One reason for delay in getting expenses down, Mr. Kruttschnitt said, was tardiness of the railroad labor board in deciding the road applications for lower wage scales. "Roads are losing between $500,000 and $600,000 a day while waiting for the board's decision on wages for common labor," he declared, "since that sums up the difference between the scale the government requires them to pay the wages which the public can secure its labor at."

The hearing adjourned until Monday when the chairman of the Southern Pacific still under examination.

EMERGENCY TARIFF SCORED IN LETTER SENT TO CONGRESS

New York, May 13. (Special.)—Opposing the emergency tariff bill, Claus A. Spreckels, president of the Federal Sugar Refining company, today sent the following open letter to congress:

"For some reason unknown to the ordinary man, congress seems determined to pass this most objectionable bill, at a time when its effect will do much more harm than good to the general public. It is called an emergency tariff bill, and is supposed to benefit the farmer, but the only thing it will do, in my opinion is to put money in the hands of operators, dealers, speculators and profiteers, many of whom made large sums of money during the war, but were caught by the final reactionary wave."

"These parties, especially in the sugar and wool trades, have large stocks on hand, showing in some cases heavy losses, and they hope that this bill will go through and enable them to cover part or all of their losses."

"After the several years of war throughout the world, the country has been going through a period of natural liquidation, which is the only way in which it can get back to a safe and fair basis for everybody. Nearly all business men, and others, have had losses, many of them running into large figures, and are now in poor financial condition. Business has been curtailed in all lines, and laborers, miners, clerks, and other groups, running into millions, have been discharged, and incomes reduced. At this time the government should do everything possible to help the general liquidation, so that all can get the benefit."

"If consider it suicidal for any party to put through the emergency tariff bill at present and thus raise prices of all kinds of food products, wearing apparel, etc."

"With rents high, taxes of all kinds at unheard of limits, to add this additional burden is an outrage, and the republican party will hear from the voters later on."

"If hope the members of congress will come to their senses and realize what the emergency bill means—that it will not help the farmer, nor anyone else, excepting a few speculators and profiteers."

"No use talking, Daniel's straw hats have got 'em all 'beat' and they have the largest stock I ever saw in my whole life"

We heard a man say this the other day and he told the truth—you'll agree if you see them

AUTOMOBILE LAW HELD INVALID

The state supreme court rendered a decision Friday holding that the law making it a criminal offense to operate an automobile while under the influence of liquor or at a speed in excess of thirty miles an hour on the public highways is unconstitutional.

The opinion was rendered on the appeal of Charles Jones, convicted of two counts in the Fulton superior court for voluntary manslaughter in the commission of an unlawful act. He was charged with killing Hoke Smith Lee while driving an automobile in excess of thirty miles an hour while being intoxicated at the time.

The court held that this section of the motor vehicle law was unconstitutional because it was enacted at the extraordinary session of 1918, when the governor's proclamation did not include it in the subject matter to receive attention. It was made plain in the decision that the court's ruling does not apply to other sections of the act and municipal regulations.

TO TOWBOAT MEN

New York, May 13.—Thomas B. Healy, chairman of the Atlantic and Gulf Coast Engineers' conference, stated the nationwide marine strike employees, if ship-owners attempted to use union-manned tug boats in docking ships, considered by the union as unfair.

QUIET
AFTER BATTLE.

New Orleans, May 13.—Everything was quiet today along the river front, where a pitched battle was started between the police and alleged marine strikers late last night, in which one policeman and two alleged strikers were wounded. The fighting occurred at the Louisville and Nashville railroad station soon after the arrival there of two passenger cars filled with strike breakers. The police say there were between 400 and 450 men in an attacking party, all of whom they charge were ambushed behind box cars and railroad sheds.

When the fight started there were about fifty police near enough to the scene to take part in the defense of the police. A riot call was turned in and in a few moments the police forces were increased, whereupon the attackers fled.

Following the battle the police raided the marine union headquarters, where they arrested 105 men on a charge of loitering. The police say they found a large number of guns and "blackjacks" on the floor after the men had been arrested.

B. & A. railroad near Fitzgerald last Sunday morning, thereby endangering the lives of the crew of a freight train which passed over the explosives, Sid Reese, negro, was placed in the Bibb county jail today for safekeeping. Bill Simpson, another negro, who is alleged to have aided Reese in committing the crime, was taken into custody at Fitzgerald early this afternoon and brought to the Bibb jail tonight.

Deputy Sheriff G. R. Putnam, who brought the prisoners here, said there was no likelihood of mob violence, but that the negroes were removed as a precautionary measure.

Agents of the Pinkerton detective agency filed the negroes at the jail after their arrival, but refused to divulge the evidence that has been collected against the blacks, although it is stated that their arrests are expected. The investigation is being handled by the police and special agents of the railroad company.

mer designed to prevent fishing in any Georgia stream between April 15 and May 16 each year, that period being the "bedding" or spawning season of most species of game fish found in this state.

The purpose of the proposed law is, of course, to increase the number of fish with which our streams are stocked.

The taking of fish during spawning season is practically devoid of any element of sportsmanship—as much so as the shooting of quail or other game birds during nesting season, and from this standpoint there should be no objection to Mr. Beckham's proposed bill.

It is a meritorious measure, and its enactment would be timely.

A WORTHY APPEAL.

The campaign for a fund of $50,000 to finance the year's activities of the Salvation Army in the Atlanta district is moving favorably, but not as briskly as it should in consideration of the worthiness of the cause it represents.

Until a year or so ago the Salvation lassie, with tambourine in hand, was a familiar figure on the streets and in shops and stores day and night, soliciting money for the Army.

By that method the solicitation campaign of this worthy organization was continuous, and with the proceeds from the daily harvest it was enabled to pursue its work of ministering to the needy.

But that policy has been changed, largely in response to the wishes of the public, and the Army has been put on the budget system basis and its receipts from popular subscriptions limited to one intensive campaign each year; and the young women who formerly devoted their energies to daily solicitation of funds now spend their time at the real charity work of the organization.

This year's budget for the Atlanta territory calls for $50,000. Considering the scope and population of the district and the abnormal condition of the times, together with the capacity of the Salvation Army organization for relieving distress and helping the unfortunate in various ways, the amount called for certainly is little enough.

This is a fund to which every citizen should contribute, for a contribution to the Salvation Army is a contribution for the relief of suffering humanity.

Chief William B. Cody, of the Atlanta fire department, expressed the sentiment of all thoughtful citizens when, in stating the attitude of the city firemen toward the Salvation Army, he said:

"We are strong for the Salvation Army because we know how much good it does every day in the year for the kind of folks that need help and can't get it anywhere else."

In thousands of ways, in peacetime and under war conditions, this great humanitarian organization, which grimly clings to the slogan, "A Man May Be Down But He Is Never Out," has earned its right to appeal to the masses for support.

This district is abundantly able, and could well afford, to give the Salvation Army many times more than the modest amount now asked for.

First, the protest of the Atlanta Parent-Teachers' association, composed of the parents who patronize the schools and the teachers who teach in them; second, that of the School Improvement association, organized for the support of the public schools, and, third, the official reputation by the organization of the teachers.

No stronger case against the position of the school board could possibly be made. What the outcome will be this side of the ballot-box we do not know.

But we do know that the people of Atlanta are thoroughly aroused and whatever may be done in the meantime, the people will have the ultimate voice at the ballot-box.

If it means reorganization of the board the people have the power to force it! They may go to it on a broad plan and by a general reorganization movement.

The protest in the school board matter is simply one of many straws that are blowing, indicative of the storm of popular indignation against the way a good many things are going on here in Atlanta, all very largely because the people themselves have not been awakened to the necessity of their taking a hand in the administration of their own affairs.

But they are grasping the situation more eagerly every day! They are coming more and more to see that only by their taking an interest in public affairs our public problems can be satisfactorily solved.

FISH CONSERVATION. Walter H. Beckham, of Albany, who will be one of Dougherty county's representatives in the next Georgia legislature, announces his intention to work for the enactment of a law to protect fish in Georgia streams.

In a communication which appears elsewhere upon this page, Mr. Beckham says he will introduce a bill in the house this summer designed to prevent fishing in any Georgia stream between April 15 and May 16 each year, that period being the "bedding" or spawning season of most species of game fish found in this state.

The purpose of the proposed law is, of course, to increase the number of fish with which our streams are stocked.

The taking of fish during spawning season is practically devoid of any element of sportsmanship—as much so as the shooting of quail or other game birds during nesting season, and from this standpoint there should be no objection to Mr. Beckham's proposed bill.

It is a meritorious measure, and its enactment would be timely.

Until a year or so ago the Salvation lassie, with tambourine in hand, was a familiar figure on the streets and in shops and stores day and night, soliciting money for the Army.

By that method the solicitation campaign of this worthy organization was continuous, and with the proceeds from the daily harvest it was enabled to pursue its work of ministering to the needy.

McCallum Cracks in 7th Inning And Jackets Win From Generals

Dan O'Leary Pitches Great Ball for Local College and Deserved Shut-out Over Opponents

BY WALLACE GEORGE.

In the last half of the seventh Friday afternoon, which was the 13th by the way, and with an Irish battery working for them, the Georgia Tech Yellow Jacket nine coupled two hits, two sacrifices, a walk, and a brace of miscues, and tallied three for enough runs to win the first game from the Washington and Lee series, 4 to 1. The concluding game was to be played at the Georgia Tech Ground field, with "Sunshine" Thompson, of Tech nine, due to oppose Patrick, of the victors.

It was a great game up to that point and the advantage was scarcely leaning to either side of the fence. Washington and Lee had scored first, getting Frew around the bases and home. But the error was not an error on the part of Soc Ingram. Tech went hitless until the last of the sixth with two men on, when Frew hit a home run. The crowd then went out attempting to stop the rally. Soc made up for his misdeed by hitting the seventh when he led off with a home hit. The crowd was starting the rally that led to three runs and victory. The crowd was so excited that it almost forgot the story. Red Barron came to bat and sacrificed Soc down a notch. Esau Esau came to bat and hit a home run momentarily and then threw wild. Soc moved from second home on the first run. The first run for Tech was the first run.

Rona's Pinch Poke.
Webb, next up, hit to McCallum, who threw to second. The second baseman Burke dropped his peg and both runners were safe. Roane cracked the first home run of the game in the driving Bevo Webb to third. Both men on base moved up a peg when Webb was thrown out at home. The right fielder for the second out, Liddell walked but went out at second. O'Leary grounded in that direction.

Not content with three runs, Tech went back in the eighth and scored a fourth. The eighth inning was a dog fight. Ingram sacrificed him to second. Harron beat out a hit to short, and the Tech offense was back in. Red got in a chase off first and when Morkan tried to score he was thrown out. Ingram walked. Red reached second all right, and came in on Settle's single over the fence. Webb grounded out to end the frame.

Washington and Lee drew first base in the ninth. With one out, Frew binged to left. Tech took second on Correll's grounder. The Tech offense binged left in a shibe hit that landed in the outfield. Between two hits and Frew dashed

Nine Places Won by Georgia Colleges in Preliminaries For S. I. A. A. Track Finals

Tech Leads With Five; Georgia Comes Next With Three, and Oglethorpe Gets One Man In.

Sewanee, Tenn., May 13.—(Special.)—Preliminaries in nine events were run off this afternoon on Harder field in preparation for the finals of the S. I. A. A. Saturday afternoon. Only two S. I. A. A. records were bettered.

Coughlan, the Sewanee star, ran the 120-yard high hurdles in 15.25 seconds, 2.5 of a second better than the previous record made by Burris in 1918. Five men qualified for the finals in the javelin throw, and each one of them bettered previous S. I. A. A. records made by Hammond in 1920.

In the high hurdles Moreland, of Louisiana state, had second place, but was disqualified for knocking down too many hurdles. In the same event Ellis, of Mississippi A. & M. star, would have been an easy first in his heat but was disqualified for knocking down the hurdles.

Louisiana state qualified the greatest number of men for the finals, taking eleven places, while Sewanee and Mississippi A. & M. placed seven each, Vanderbilt six, Georgia Tech and Kentucky five each, Georgia three, Clemson, Alabama and Centre two each, Oglethorpe, University of Mississippi and South Carolina one each.

Summary follows: 100-yard dash: First heat, Runyon, Vanderbilt; Helm, L. S. U.; 10.25 seconds. Second heat, Blair, Sewanee; Ivy, Oglethorpe; 10.25 seconds. Third heat, Ellis, Mississippi A. & M.; Stack, Vanderbilt; 10.25 seconds. Coughlan, Sewanee; 22.45 seconds. Second heat, Coughlan, Sewanee; 22.45 seconds. Third heat, Coughlan, Sewanee; 22.45 seconds. Fourth heat, Coughlan, Sewanee; 22.45 seconds. Fifth heat, Coughlan, Sewanee; 22.45 seconds. Sixth heat, Coughlan, Sewanee; 22.45 seconds. Seventh heat, Coughlan, Sewanee; 22.45 seconds. Eighth heat, Coughlan, Sewanee; 22.45 seconds. Ninth heat, Coughlan, Sewanee; 22.45 seconds.

Ty Cobb Has His Men Fighting Outfit Is No Longer Weakling

BY CLIFF WHEATLEY

The one quality in a baseball team that cannot be determined by figures is the "fighting spirit" of that particular organization, and yet we know that it is this unconquerable "something" that accounts for so many of the victories turned in by certain teams of the country. Hugh Fullerton and other baseball experts of the nation have boiled down the pastime until a fairly accurate line can be gleaned, but even Mr. Fullerton has not attempted to outline the value in percentage the fighting spirit of an organization lends to its strength.

There are some teams that won't stay licked. The Atlanta Crackers afford a fairly good illustration in this connection, as more than half of the games won by the local machine this season have been capped after the opposing team got away to a running start. Only in a few cases have the Crackers snatched the lead at the beginning to retain it through the whole route. Most of the battles have been won through uphill fighting; that has made Atlanta fans believe that the Crackers don't begin to scrap until the last ditch is reached.

This is one illustration, but the most outstanding, to the writer's mind, is Ty Cobb's Detroit team. With but one or two changes, it is the same one that lost thirteen straight games at the start last season, finishing in seventh place only because they couldn't drop enough encounters to force Connie Mack's Athletics from their inalienable right to this berth.

Look at the Tigers this season. In the first place, they are playing above the 500 mark, which, if continued, will result in them either trailing the first division at the close, or topping the second division—more than the Detroit fans have requested the "Georgia Peach" to accomplish in his first season as manager. Ty's batting order looks very much like it did last year, and there are no additions to the pitching staff that proved of any value.

What is the cause, you ask? And I can all over the nation are demanding the same information. The answer, we believe, is that Ty Cobb, as a pilot, has the no-operation of his team. The players have had injected into them some of Cobb's unbeatable spirit and are licked only when the last man is out and the bats are folded for the day.

Graff's Experiences With Chattanooga.

Fred Graff, Atlanta third baseman and a veteran fielder with wisdom, for his tender years, is a staunch believer in having good fighting spirit on a ball club. Fred never gives up, is never discouraged, and doesn't believe that there is a team on earth that has any right to defeat the Crackers.

"I wouldn't worry over a fifty-run lead," Graff asserted recently. "I have always believed that if the opposition makes a big number of tallies, it is possible for our team to turn the same trick, and I've seen it done enough times to know that it can be accomplished."

"There is never any occasion to give up the ship, and if a team once realizes this, it'll be the hardest gang to lick in the circuit. Against real fighters, no team ever feels safe, and half the victory is made when the other side begins to worry."

Graff then related his experiences last season in Chattanooga, where he has more friends than Ponzich investors in Boston.

"When Strang Nicklin told me that he wanted me to assume the managerial reins at Chattanooga, I was not particularly anxious to take up the responsibilities. I had seen the Lookouts in action once or twice, and the exhibitions I witnessed were rather listless affairs. Behind a run or two, and the boys resigned themselves to the beating that was in store. I saw absolutely no 'pep,' and apparently no keen desire to win ball games."

"However, I agreed after a bit," Freddie continued, "and the first thing I did was to 'shoot my face' once or twice at the umpires. The initial game under my direction was won although it took twenty hard-earned dollars from my pocket for umpires' fines. I talked to that infield continually, made the others do the same thing, and within a few days the chatter from our inner works sounded louder than the steers of an immigration ship docking at New York. But we won game after game and at the close the Chattanooga team was putting forth a great fight. We finished in the cellar, but if this season has gone a month longer that would not have been the case."

There is little doubt about, gentle reader, when the playing ability is missing, nothing fills in quite so conveniently as pep. It is an indomitable fighting spirit, and in most cases the ability minus the last mentioned qualities will lead to

TRACK MARKS FALL AT MEET

Washington, May 13.—Three South Atlantic records were broken in the preliminaries of the ninth annual track and field championship meet at Georgetown university today. Let 'Em All Come!

A jovial individual saw an announcement in an ironmonger's window the other day. It read: "Iron sinks" and he went in and told the man he knew from rank. "Yes," said the man, "and time flies, but wine vaults, grass slopes and music stands; Niagara falls, moonlight walks, sheep run, Kent hops and holiday trips; scenic spreads, india-rubber tires, the organ stops, the whole world goes round and trade returns."

The jovial one booted. Then he returned, put his head in at the door, and remarked: "Yes, I know; and marble busts!"

SALE STRIKES OUT EIGHTEEN

G. M. A. had little trouble taking the number of the Commercial High team Friday afternoon. The score was 13 to 0. Commercial played a good game, but was helpless against the excellent pitching of Sale, who retired eighteen men with no outside help.

Anchor, the Commercial slabsman, fared worse, and G. M. A. touched him for fifteen hits. At that, he would have held the team down much better but for the poor support given him by his team.

Finals in S. I. A. A. Net Tourney Scheduled Today at East Lake

Tech Team Made It Satisfactorily Through First Rounds Yesterday—Has Chance at Championship Today.

BY JIMMY BURNS.

The semi-finals and finals of the S. I. A. A. tennis tournament which was opened yesterday on the East Lake club courts will be run off this morning and afternoon and the winners will be proclaimed the next champions of the south. Fast and hard fought matches featured the opening rounds of the tournament with a good bit of interest centered around the double match, between the Camp Benning team and that of Tulane, the college boys being nosed out at the last.

The doubles will be played this morning with Clemson meeting Camp Benning and the winner taking the title. The winner of the singles match between Tech and Tulane will play the winner of the doubles match in the final.

General opinion among the tennis players at the courts was that Camp Benning will put the Clemson team out of the running and go into the finals with Tech.

The semi-finals in the singles will also be played this morning and will bring together, Blake of Tech vs. Dykers of Tulane, Morse of Tulane vs. Hines of Clemson.

The feature of the play yesterday in the singles was in the set between Horn of Florida and O'Neal of Georgia. Horn forced his conquerer to the limit and the representative of the Bulldogs had hard sailing throughout. Morse of Tulane and Finley of Camp Benning played in their match, Morse winning in three sets.

In the doubles the match between the collegians of Tulane and the officers of Camp Benning was close all the way. The Tulane boys put up a good scrap and the verdict was contrary to the axiom that youth must be served, the Benning team winning.

Yesterday's Results.

First round of singles: Blake of Tech defeated St. John of Clemson, 6-2, 6-2. O'Neal of Georgia defeated Horn of Florida, 6-3, 6-2. Dykers of Tulane defeated Rumbaugh of Camp Benning, 6-1, 6-1.

ning 6-0, 8-6. Move of Oglethorpe drew bye. Morse of Tulane defeated Fort of Georgia, 6-2, 9-7. Finley of Camp Benning defeated Van Winkle of Tech, 6-0, 6-1. Klock of Florida drew bye. Hines of Clemson defeated Price of Oglethorpe, 6-1, 6-2.

Singles, second round: Blake of Tech defeated O'Neal of Georgia, 6-1, 6-1. Move of Oglethorpe defaulted to Dykers of Tulane. Morse of Tulane defeated Finley of Camp Benning, 2-6, 6-4, 6-4. Hines of Clemson defeated Klock of Florida, 6-0, 6-0.

First round doubles: Dobbs and Campbell of Oglethorpe drew bye. Williamson and Blake of Tech defeated O'Neal and Hester of Georgia, 6-3, 6-2. Hines and St. John of Clemson defeated Klock and Horn of Florida, 6-3, 6-2. Finley and Proctor of Camp Benning defeated Morse and Dykers of Tulane, 10-8, 4-6, 6-4.

Second round of doubles: Williamson and Blake of Tech defeated Dobbs and Campbell of Oglethorpe, 6-1, 6-1.

REQUISITION PAPERS ISSUED FOR ATTELL

Springfield, Illinois, May 13.—Requisition papers for the return to Chicago of Abe Attell, former featherweight champion and alleged "fixer" in the 1919 baseball scandal, were signed today by Governor Small. Attell is held at New York on a fugitive warrant.

Miss Leitch and Miss Stirling Will Meet in the First Rounds

This Match Will Prove Feature of Tourney, Is Belief of British Golf Experts.

London, May 13.—(By the United News.)—By a peculiar prank of chance—perhaps Friday, the thirtieth, had something to do with it—Miss Alexa Stirling, of Atlanta, the British amateur woman champion, is paired with Miss Cecil Leitch, the British champion, in the opening round at Turnberry, Ayrshire, on May 30. Bobby Jones, also of Atlanta, is to drive the first ball in the British amateur tournament at Hoylake on May 23.

Golfing enthusiasts see occasion for congratulation and regret, both, in the happening that pairs Miss Stirling and Miss Leitch in the first round. In favor of this pairing there is the fact that each, being fresh and not fagged by preliminary rounds, will be at her best. But if Miss Stirling should be defeated and eliminated on the first day, there would be great regret that she did not fare otherwise in the drawing and thus give the gallery more of a chance to watch her.

Darkhorses are numerous in the women's tournament, however, and it may be that whoever wins this early match will be eliminated later.

If Miss Stirling should win the first round and Miss Holis, of Westbrook, should defeat Miss Allington in theirs, then these two American women will be matched in the second round. Miss Holis is expected to win from Miss Allington.

Miss F. A. Fowles, of Oakmont, is the only one of the American and Canadian players to draw a bye in the first round. In the second round she meets Mrs. E. C. Bewley.

Other drawings are: Kate Robertson, Beaconsfield, Canada, vs. Mrs. E. C. McCarthy, Miss R. Sherwood, Saint George's, U. S. A. vs. Miss M. R. Fitzgibbon, Mrs. R. H. Barlow, Merion, U. S. Telling You All About It!

IT is a mooted question. What is a bargain? The Rich interpretation of the term is about as follows: Something you want or need, at the time you want or need it—at a price less than worth—the worth based upon the current quotations of the retail market. That these shirts at $2.97 constitute a bargain we shall proceed to demonstrate.

THE want or need of shirts is a thing that goes without saying. It is a constant condition. Just now we are walking through the threshold to Summer and this chronic want becomes acute. So much for timeliness.

WORTH. What is worth? Women, perhaps, are better judges than men. However, we should say off-hand and without pretending to know more about it than anyone else, that worth is based upon cost of production, materials and labor. As any woman will know upon examination, the price of the materials in these shirts approximates our Anniversary price for them made up, labor, transportation and other cost factors not calculated.

THERE are 3,600 shirts. It is the biggest thing of the kind ever held in Atlanta—the display reaches down the whole South Aisle.

THEY are different and distinguished shirts, painstakingly made, good looking.

THAT we can sell $4 to $6 shirts at $2.97 is due solely to the fact that, armed with money, we caught the market in a moment of depression.

NEGRO WITNESSES GRANTED LIBERTY

Six of the Negroes Held to Testify in Peonage Case Released From Custody.

Macon, Ga., May 13.—(Special.)—Six of the negroes brought to Macon Tuesday as witnesses for the government against U. G. B. Hogan, wealthy planter of Laurens county, charged with peonage, were released from the Bibb county jail today upon orders from Assistant United States District Attorney Clem Powers.

Five of the negroes were released on their own recognizance. They were Ellen Yopp, Ambrose Walker, Luella Smith, Hattie Morgan and Will Thomas. Leroy Brown made his bond and was released until May 23, when Hogan will be arraigned for a preliminary hearing before Commissioner W. E. Martin.

The release of the negroes followed a rigid examination given them yesterday, when they were put through an eight-hour grilling. The conference between the district attorney and the department of justice agents, at which the negroes were examined, will not come to light until the preliminary hearing.

FOUR SOLDIERS DIE AS POWDER EXPLODES

Lawton, Okla., May 13.—Four enlisted men of the Seventh ordnance depot detachment at Fort Sill, Okla., were killed late today when a pound of black gunpowder exploded prematurely. Search continuing until darkness resulted in the finding only of fragments of the bodies.

13 ORGANIZATIONS PLAN OPEN FORUM FOR CIVIC REFORM

Thirteen civic organizations have already responded to the call of Miss Eleanor Raoul, chairman of the League of Women Voters, for representation on a central committee to conduct an open forum on the need of reform in the city government.

The central committee is to hold its first meeting at the Piedmont hotel, Thursday, May 19, at 4 o'clock.

Organizations that have named two delegates each on the committee are as follows: Atlanta Federation of Trades, Atlanta Federation of Women's clubs, Chamber of Commerce, Civilian club, Council of Jewish Women, Kiwanis club, Lions club, Parent-Teacher association, Retail Merchants association, School Improvement association, Rotary club, Teachers association, United End Study club.

This move by the women has grown out of their dissatisfaction with the present form of government, and is based on their belief that the city is in a serious plight and that present conditions make a change imperative, according to the formal announcement by the league.

He was sentenced to a term of from three to five years. Motion for a new trial was made.

Mckenzie was granted bond of $3,000, pending hearing of the motion for a new trial, which will be given May 19. He produced the amount of the bond.

Frank Mckenzie, the son, has been found guilty of manslaughter, and given a term of from fifteen to twenty years.

Spring Turkey, Felix

Stuff the squab turkey with one pound of barley cooked in with chicken bouillon, well drained, and the same quantity of sausage meat, one chopped onion stewed in butter and one cupful of cream. Poach the turkey with some bouillon, and to it one carrot, one onion, one head of celery and a small bunch of parsley with one bay leaf. Remove the turkey, strain the cooking liquor and finish the sauce the same as in Recipe 96. Serve a garnish of new string beans, boiled and seasoned with butter, salt and pepper.

HAIR-DRESSER TAKEN FOR ROYAL DOCTOR

Wined and Dined, But When It Leaks Out He Is Barber, Popularity Ends.

Athens, May 13.—Princess Anastasia, the American wife of Prince Christopher who was formerly Mrs. William B. Leeds, of New York, just before she was recently taken ill, summoned to Athens a fashionable Paris hair dresser to dress a coiffure suitable for wearing in a carriage. He arrived at the day the Princess's illness reached its critical stage.

Greek authorities at Saloniki mistook him for a distinguished physician and jumped to the conclusion that he had been summoned as an expert medical advisor. They tried to find a destroyer to carry him to Athens but failed and he had to go by train.

The coiffure maker's reputation as a celebrity had preceded him here and the Americans staying at the best hotel where he registered, treated him with the greatest deference. He was extensively wined and dined but the Americans were disappointed when they suddenly inquired about the Princess's health the hair dresser maintained a delicate reserve. His popularity was brief. Some one soon recognized him as a barber and he is no longer a striking figure in the hotel lobby.

18-MONTHS-OLD BABY IS ARTIST

Cardiff, Wales, May 13.—Helen Williams, of South Wales, is stated to be the world's youngest artist. Her claim to this distinction is that, although she is only 18 months old, she sits up in her cot every day and, with a pencil and drawing board, sketches the things that adorn her nursery.

Two of her studies drawn from memory are being exhibited at the annual exhibition of the Royal Drawing society in London.

Her pictures are an outline of a cat with a ribbon bow and a running gamecock.

SPANISH FARMERS DEMAND LAND BANKS

Madrid, May 13.—Farmers' associations of Spain are demanding that the government set up land banks to loan them money at reasonable rates to purchase modern machinery and fertilizers. They say the tenant farmers now have to borrow cash from usurers, who often charge as high as 250 per cent.

This leaves the farmer so poor that he cannot afford to buy the implements for deeper plowing necessary to dry farming, to which 50,000,000 acres of land are devoted.

in the Green of Sport

Baseball in the major leagues is beginning to settle down so that the teams are commencing to show their real form. The pace set by Cleveland and Pittsburgh has been a trifle fast, and due almost entirely to superior pitching condition. When teams which ordinarily are stronger in regulars than others have the good fortune to get an entire pitching staff in working order, as Cleveland and Pittsburgh, as it makes the races one-sided.

Neither of the leading teams may be expected to maintain such a gait as they showed during the first month of the season, and the time is coming when the teams of the part of Washington especially, in the American league, and the Cubs in the National league, will be the ones to beat, as we say at the race track.

Bradley Realized Ambition. Ed Bradley realized his life ambition the other day when his colt Behave. Yourself won the Kentucky derby, with his other entry, Black Servant, right at his shoulder.

Bradley, who is one of the best known sportsmen in America, and who has raced much in Canada and on American tracks, and whose club is the Kentucky Jockey club, has been one of the greatest of Kentucky horsemen. The Idle Hour stud is one of the huge establishments of the state, and for generations of horsemen Bradley has aspired to breed a derby winner. To have his two colts race neck and neck in recent years has been places from the greatest of the eastern 3-year-olds and the pick of the year is an honor seldom won by any one.

Mr. Bradley has one peculiarity which race followers may not know. Look down the lists and you will discover that every Bradley horse has a name which commences with a B. The selection of names for the horses in the stables furnishes a difficult job, and the fact that Bradley has been able to furnish some odd names by which the colts may be recognized. Bradley has himself and Black Servant now get the capital "B's" of Idle Hour.

The victory of the colts in the derby is extremely popular in Kentucky. As both were western bred and trained, they have restored to do much real practicing, and producing the fastest thoroughbreds in the country. The boast has been made in recent years due to the fact that eastern colts have been the winners, but this time Kentucky beat the pride of the east.

Will Chick Evans Be at Best? The American golf invasion of England is under way. There is considerable anxiety among the amateurs, who have just landed in England, for fear Chick Evans will not be near his best in the coming tourneys.

Evans' health has not been good during the past winter, and he has not been well enough this spring to do much real practicing, and besides that an early spring, followed by wet, cold weather, delayed his golf operations around Chicago.

Chick broke down late last fall after the most strenuous year of his career. In fact he had got so tired continually since the start of the war. His old trouble, neuritis, attacked him, and he laid off, during the winter the rheumatic shoulder handicapped him, and severe attacks of indigestion kept him from playing. Before sailing for England Chick declared that his health was in such a condition that he would be in fairly good condition by the time the amateur starts.

class fighting shape, for he forced the pace all through the morning. He was a tremendous hitter. If Cross can fight like that now that he is 35, he should go to New York and fight for Rickard. And, perhaps, that is what the can-jaw was thinking of when he decided upon taking up boxing again.

Cross was not through by any means when he quit the ring. He simply had a barrel of money. Since then he has made and lost two or three real fortunes in the stock market. It is rumored that Leach dropped a hundred thousand—or a couple of hundred thousand—in the market this year. He had five cars, and sold all but one, which may have been an indication of the way the market treated him.

Cross did some remarkable fighting in his time. Since retiring he has kept in fine condition by playing golf every day. He is the original golf nut. Also, he has boxed.

HAPPY OLD MAN OF BALLAGHADERRINE

Years Added to His Life By Thoughtfulness of Daughter in U. S. A.

Mrs. Mary Pratt, of 456 Market St., Portsmouth, Bangor, Me., writes the Priest Drug Co., Bangor, Me.: "Dear Sir:—I take much pleasure in writing a few lines so that some one else may have the same benefit from your Priest's Indigestion Powder as my father had. He has been suffering from an incurable stomach for six years."

As I was a resident of Bangor for some time, I often saw the good result of your medicine, so I sent me a bottle to Ireland. He wrote back and said it was the best medicine he ever found and he wants me to send him some more. My father's name is Michael Bowen. He lives at Ballaghaderrine, Roscommon.

For sale by all druggists. If your dealer does not carry Priest's Indigestion Powder, write him or order it from the wholesaler or Priest Drug Co., Bangor, Me. Samples sent free. Mention paper in which you read this advertisement. For sale by Jacobs' Pharmacy Co.'s drug stores.—(adv.)

Should Set Time Limit. Johnny Kilbane doesn't seem anxious to fight the best men in the featherweight class or to defend the championship he holds, judging by the way he has turned down offers of big purses to fight at Madison Square Garden. But Johnny doesn't mind picking a soft one.

There should be some limit to the time a champion can hold a title without defending it against a legitimate challenger. And if there was such a limit, our old friend Johnny would be the first to retire gracefully to what Grover Cleveland once termed "innocuous desuetude."

If Johnny's eye happens to fall on these lines and he thinks I'm calling him names, I'll loan him a dictionary.

Otherwise He's Great. Fred Fulton looks like a champion when he's trimming some poor guy he knows he can lick. The only trouble with Fred is that he can't fight when he thinks he knows he can't lick the other guy.

Comparatively Speaking. Professional golfers are calculating on having $10,000 purses to play for in the near future, now that the Glenagles club of Edinburgh, Scotland, is putting up $5,000 for a tournament.

When they're as reckless as that in Scotland there's no telling how much coin may be laid out in the land where Tex Rickard has made purse-giving one of the fine arts.

Babe Ruth may break the home run record again this year, but what good will that do for Babe? The Long George Kelly poles out a couple of four-base hits more than Babe? There's only one real home run record, and the best gets the movie contracts.

John McGraw "couldn't remember how he got it." Well, neither could Jess Willard.

Poor Little Rich Boy. All that Rickard cleaned up with his boxing shows at the Garden in seven months and a day was an even $300,000. Will somebody please pass the hat.

WEEKS ASKS MEDALS FOR ONLY ARMY MEN

Washington, May 13.—"Dollar-a-year" men, or other civilian participants, should not be rewarded with medals for their services in the opinion of Secretary of War Weeks.

Weeks said he was in favor of recognizing war service was made when he conferred distinguished service medals on six army officers.

Emphasizing that the value of war medals should be based on the high quality of service rendered, Weeks said:

"Personally I am not in favor of giving either a distinguished service cross or a distinguished service medal to those who are not a part of the army. If civilians are to be recognized, as they may well be, it should be done in some other way. Therefore, I shall not recommend to the president the conferring of these medals on civilians."

Weeks said he also favored placing a limitation on the time of filing applications for medals.

"Whether two years is a sufficient time, I do not undertake to say," Weeks announced. "But, unless there is a limit, it naturally follows that many years later when facts relating to a soldier's service may not be obtainable, medals will be conferred which are not warranted by the service performed."

U. S. BEATS BRITISH FILMING QUEEN MARY

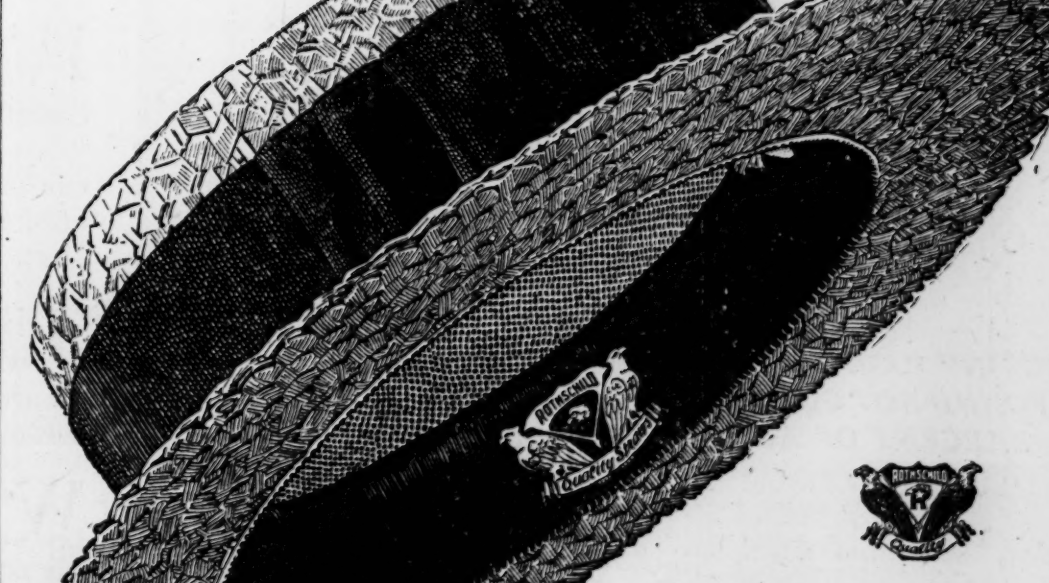

London, May 13.—The life story of "Mary, Queen of Scots" is being filmed here by an American firm.

This has given rise to much talk because a little while ago it was announced that a British firm would produce the film version of this subject. However, the American firm is now advertising for a girl who bears a facial resemblance to the queen to play the name part.

In order to straighten out the matter in the minds of the public, Walter Wanger, who originally intended to produce such a film, wrote The London Daily Mail:

"Those whose business it is to find the money necessary for the production of British films were convinced that no one wanted to see British history on the screen and that costume plays were a failure."

ALPHA TAU OMEGA

Meeting of the Atlanta association of the Alpha fraternity Friday afternoon at the Atlanta bar was a silent, succeeding Rob Johnson, Jr., also a member of the Atlanta bar, James L. Girardeau, who were given a vote for their services. The meeting was largely attended by addition to election of members in the future. The next section on the ed States attorney, who was in charge of details of the government's cases, returned Friday from Columbus and said that, following Thursday's verdict, the government has no title to approximately 900 acres of the Henning site.

Suit filed by the government against about 115,000 acres has been pending since November 2, 1918, when condemnation proceedings were filed against the large tract containing hundreds of farmers who were living on the land.

Many cases involving individual tracts have been agreed between the owners and the government as to prices to be paid for the land. Other owners fought the government action and continued ownership or higher price.

Mr. Combe stated that the average price paid for the land was $30 an acre, the highest price being $40 an acre.

Henning acquisition officer seemed much pleased with the apparent success of the government.

READY TO SEEK MEANS TO MEET BOND PAYMENTS

American Representation in Allied Councils Affects Every Person Holding Liberty and Victory Notes.

BY ROBERT J. BENDER.
(United News Staff Correspondent.)
Washington, May 13.—This government's course in re-establishing American representation in the allied councils affecting settlements has a direct bearing upon every man, woman and child in the country who owns a Liberty bond.

As has been authoritatively stated on several occasions, this government's interest in European affairs is not political, nor even sentimental.
In the accepted meaning of the word, but entirely economic. Its position, briefly, is this:

Within the next seven years some eight billion dollars in government war bonds must be liquidated or otherwise accounted for. The manner of meeting this obligation is dependent to a considerable degree upon how much and how soon European powers can pay off either interest, principal or both on their indebtedness to the United States.
Both the time and extent of these payments, in turn, depend largely upon how soon and how much the allied powers can collect reparations due from Germany.

No Collection Soon.

With the leading European countries now in an economic situation where the interest alone on their respective indebtedness totals a greater amount annually than the total revenue they have been able to derive annually in the past for running their governments, it may be seen how remote is the opportunity for any immediate collection by the United States of considerable sums either in principal or in interest from her European debtors.
And it is with this situation confronting it that the treasury department is seeking means of taking care of its vast obligations, billions
of which mature within the next two years, and the money for which is not available except from increased taxation, unless Europe is in a position to pay off some of her borrowings.

The total outstanding American
indebtedness in Liberty bonds today
is something over nineteen billion dollars, of which over four billion
matures in two years from the 20th
of this month. In addition, there is over three billion dollars in floating indebtedness and in war savings
securities, which also must be met within the next few years. Without payment by the allied powers of
their indebtedness, this government,
under its scheme of annual payment, would have to fund the maturities.

Plan Is Discussed.

The suggestion that the Liberty loans be refunded to mature over a period of 40 years, a stipulated amount to be paid off annually, with an increased interest rate and other measures designed to maintain them at par, has been seriously discussed in sessions of the cabinet.
No decision, however, was deemed practicable until the reparations question was settled, and the permittence of a definite arrangement on allied payments for their indebtedness, which would work back into the scheme with the Liberty bond refunding scheme.

Therefore, because it was vital that the reparations problem be settled, so that the American fiscal policy could be definitely determined, this government has taken the course which it believed would lead most rapidly to a settlement, and entered the European market. And this same desire for a reparations settlement is responsible for the attitude this government has taken, and which has been understood to be informally communicated to the Berlin government that the best thing for Germany to do now is to sign the allied ultimatum demanding payment of 132,000,000,000 gold marks indemnity, so that Europe can get to work.

Once the program of German payments on reparations is established, work can begin on developing a definite plan for payment of the allied loans. In the United States, and this in turn will permit of a practical solution of the Liberty loan problem, such as will measure the millions of American bondholders who met this war appeal with their savings.

of which mature within the next
two years, and the money for
which is not available except from increased taxation, unless Europe is
in a position to pay off some of her
borrowings.

The total outstanding American

indebtedness in Liberty bonds today
is something over nineteen billion
dollars, of which over four billion
matures in two years from the 20th
of this month. In addition, there
is over three billion dollars in floating indebtedness and in war savings
securities, which also must be met
within the next few years. Without payment by the allied powers of
their indebtedness, this government,
under its scheme of annual payment, would have to fund the maturities.

And it is with this situation confronting it that the treasury department is seeking means of taking care of its vast obligations, billions

of which mature within the next
two years, and the money for
which is not available except from increased taxation, unless Europe is
in a position to pay off some of her
borrowings.

Von Simons Is Pick Berlin Would Send As Envoy to U. S.

BY JOHN GRAUDENZ.
United News Staff Correspondent.

Berlin, May 13.—In searching for a man who may bring about a better understanding between Germany and America, leading to resumption of friendly relations, the German government in Berlin have settled upon former Foreign Minister Von Simons.

The liberals have the support of the pacifists in their advocacy of Von Simons' selection, and with support that may come from other quarters, it appears extremely likely that the former foreign minister will be the selection.

Discussion of Von Simons' qualifications in the circles of the reichstag, generally brings forth statements that he has proved himself honest, fair and square, and that he represents the ideas of those who maintain that Germany can win the world's respect only through honesty and frankness.

Americans in Berlin who are acquainted with Von Simons hold him in high esteem. The only charges brought against him by his enemies—the industrialists—are that he talked too much as foreign minister, and overstepped his prerogatives in dealing with America in the reparations matter.

Selection of an ambassador to go to Washington, once peace between the United States and Germany is established, is admittedly one of the hardest problems before the government. It is realized that the man German representative in America will face a difficult task, and all eyes are turned to the man who is available must be chosen. The retirement of Von Simons from the government has been regarded as a loss to the government, and is expected to offer a solution to the Washington problem.

British Sweep Away Supports Of Sinn Feiners

BY AUSTIN WEST.
United Press Staff Correspondent.

London, May 13.—One of the main supporters of the Sinn Fein campaign in Ireland are being swept away by the government forces.

For a long time the Sinn Feiners found it comparatively easy to smuggle war equipment into the country, but the gradual acquirement of modern arms and systematic searching of ships has made it increasingly difficult to smuggle out of the country of wanted men, dispatches and anti-British propaganda has been reduced to a minimum.

The task of defeating Sinn Fein in this manner is the work of the auxiliary division of the R. I. C.
The majority of its members are Irishmen, and they are well versed
in the tactics of the Sinn Fein.
They are well equipped with modern arms, and they are well trained
in the tactics of the Sinn Fein.
They are well equipped with modern
arms, and they are well trained

Most of the firearms and explosives smuggled into Ireland are boarded by customs officials. On arrival in dock they are met by the auxiliary division, and they are searched. The result is that the Sinn Fein are being swept away by the government forces.

Passengers disembarking by tender from the coast are searched, as well as passengers aboard the mail boats from Kingstown to Holyhead.
The result is that the Sinn Fein are being swept away by the government forces.

These activities are causing great embarrassment to the Sinn Fein leaders, who are finding it no mean task to obtain a steady flow of munitions necessary to carry on their campaign.

Relations with the shipping board and private operators are completely broken off. Mr. Healey asserted.
Telegrams from and to the coast calls along the coast, he added, are to the effect that the engineers are gutting the ships as fast as they come into port.

If the harbor tugboat men refuse to handle ships it would cause the boat owners little annoyance. Winthrop L. Marvin, vice president of the American Steamship Owners association, declared tonight.
The situation would be overcome, as it had in Boston.

Officials of the shipping board tonight expressed grave concern over the daily movement of ships, while telegrams from various Atlantic ports have been received from the American Steamship Owners association, declaring tonight.

But Joe ignored the proffered knows."

And that ain't much," said Bob.

Boss," he said, with dignity; "but as I learnt it in my school, I know course I can't read in the daytime!"

Patient: "That sign of yours is Dentist: "Why not? I guarantee to Patient: "I've had 'em but I want the pain extracted. I'd rather keep the tooth."

A Platform of Civic Righteousness All Can Unite Upon a Program of Justice, Mercy and Mutual Forbearance.

(The following statement is issued by the committee on church co-operation.)

Can the churches unify Atlanta?

How can those who claim to follow Jesus Christ and the people of Georgia in a program of justice, mercy and mutual forbearance be as good as dead? Is it not when trying to wake Israel cried: "He looked for justice, but he beheld oppression; for righteousness, but he beheld a cry."

Does such a picture come before you when you recall the 135 examples of the population of Atlanta in Georgia cited by Governor Dorsey?

Power for Good.

These questions were before the committee on church co-operation at its last meeting. One hundred and ninety-six churches in the city of Atlanta had reported 5,978 members in the last year. In Georgia there are 1,192,674 members of the Protestant churches.
There are 15,400 members of the Catholic church. Of the Jews, there are 14 in their synagogues.

These 1,691,218 people unite in the belief that the truth voiced by Isaiah and the prophets of the Old Testament, which Jesus summed up in saying: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and greatest commandment. The second is like unto it. Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets."

In Georgia 1,658,458 people are united in the belief that the great majority of these love the state of Georgia and with those members of religious organizations who are not united in the same belief, it is necessary, for the welfare of our land,
As Judge Andrew Cobb, of this city, has said, less than 5 per cent of the people are lawless. Therefore, it is no idle dream to believe that an striving together to bring about an era of good feeling, co-operation and mutual respect will be forbearance throughout the state.

Business and Religion.

The committee on church cooperation is trying to devise a platform upon which all can unite, not to put any one man or group of men in the position of a dictator, but to bring about a reign of civic righteousness in which service to the community shall be the basis of all action.
An editorial in the Saturday Evening Post recently said: "There are young men today who are accumulating enough money to enjoy themselves. But as men penetrate further into modern business, they find that it is not simply trading for dollars or a convenient means for getting rich, but that it is a complicated system which involves all the arts, sciences, improved machinery, modern education along with the very
